Equine Touch

helping horses by educating humans

Introductory Course

What is Equine Touch and how can it help?

Equine Touch is a non-diagnostic, non-invasive, manual bodywork modality involving the performance of a series of unique, gentle, vibrational moves over the entire horse. Fascia, muscles, tendons and ligaments are vibrated in such a way that the tissue is stimulated to help the horse find its natural balance, which is the basis for healing.

Equine Touch:

- improves balance, circulation and the horse's general well-being
- reducing stress and facilitates physical and emotional relaxation
- facilitates healing and recovery from health issues

Equine Touch is fun and easy to learn. Your horse will love you for it!
